Meeting of the Council--The Market Street Railroad.

It is the regular meeting of the Council, which we hope that there will be a full attendance, as business of importance will be before the board, including a number of new ordinances, in which all are interested. The committee whom was referred the Market-street railroad question, have, we understand, a contract prepared, which will be presented to the Council to-night for their approval or rejection. The fact that there is no necessity for a road up that street has been so thoroughly discussed to need any further comment from us. That it would totally destroy the market houses, while the convenience of the public does not require it, is a fact that cannot be denied by any person who will look at the matter without prejudice. The Council should thoroughly consider this matter before they vote away half a million dollars worth of the people's property for the enrichment of the pockets of a few individuals.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS--Wednesday, October 11th--Seizer, Rowan, Sarah Williams, Willis Weider, Julia Vane, all free negroes; were presented on the charge of drunkenness; Vane was fined $5 and the others discharged.

James Brown, indicted too freely of tanglefoot, which made him too weak to stand; the Judge charged him $10 for taking up too much of the sidewalk.

Jas. Fitzpatrick, another man in the same fix, was charged $10, also John Edwards.

H. Marshall was sworn in as an Attorney.

James Nicholson, drunk, &c.; fined $10.

Charles Davenport and Fred Harper, carrying concealed weapons; Davenport was fined $10 and Harper was discharged.

J. Kelsner alias Bloom, suspected felon; discharged.

John O'Donnell and Martin Gaffney, stealing $500 from Catharine Bradley; discharged.

One ordinance was disposed of.

Wm. Baker, a free negro, obtaining $300 from Daniel Payne, another negro; bail in $500 to answer.

Michael O'Brady and Nicholas Lamb, fighting on the street; Lamb fined $3 and O'Brady $10. After the fine was imposed O'Brady kept a continual talk, for which he was sent to jail for six hours on contempt of court.

Lizzie Payne, stealing bed-clothing; discharged.

A number of peace warrants were disposed of.

Daniel Mason, shooting -- Johnson; discharged.

THE NEW ALBANY FAIR--The great horse-fair commences this morning on the grounds of the association near New Albany. The premiums offered are very liberal and the number of entries large. There are fifty-eight first premiums of $500, ranging in amount from $5 to $100 each, besides several second premiums, which will be awarded in several cases. The total amount of premiums offered exceeds $15,000, all in "greenbacks" to be paid on the ground, as fast as cases are decided.

Every arrangement has been made for the convenience of those who attend. The refreshment stands are under the control of Messrs. Forsyth and Cornell, of this city.

E. C. Brinley and Geo. T. Brinley, reported in the Democrat yesterday, we failed to mention that the case, so far as T. E. C. Brinley was concerned, was abandoned at once, the lawyer for the plaintiff admitting that no case could be made out against him. We cheerfully make this statement in justice to Mr. T. E. C. Brinley, who is one of the most correct business men in the city.

Even in the suit above mentioned the plaintiff failed to make out a case against Geo. T. Brinley, and judgment was rendered for the defendant.

We noticed in the New Albany Ledger of the 11th inst. that in addition to the premiums offered by the managers of the horse fair, Mr. Andrew Peacock, of our city, has purchased an elegant arm-rocketing chair, and offers it as a premium to the best rider over fifty years of age--the riding for this premium to take place on Saturday, and the decision to be made by the judges. Come, old gentlemen, up and at it. A short ride and an arm chair on rollers for the balance of your life.

RELEASED--The following named men, who were tried by a General Court Martial and acquitted, were released yesterday, and forwarded to their commands: Sergeant George M. Rose, U. S. V. V.; Corporal C. A. Haines, U. S. V. V.; Private P. Barney, 4th U. S. V. V.; Private H. Trider, 4th U. S. V. V.

Choice Apples. Moore, at his old stand on Fourth street, in the receipt of one hundred and twenty barrels of choice apples, which will furnish to dealers by the barrel, and to the public by the bushel. Call and see them and learn prices.

Wigs--There are too many wigs being peddled in the city. Several white ladies have been seen with wigs, and the sidewalks and streets are being soiled by them. They had better stay at home if they have wigs, or the police will find one for them.

The bridge over the river road, has been broken, and the plank and logs are being used to keep the bridge from falling. Who duty is it to keep the bridge up?

Messrs. Spruill & Mandeville, corner of Fourth and Main streets, are enlarging their well-known clothing store. When finished will be the handsomest clothing house in the city.

Plasterers--Five or six good plasterers can get employment at $4.25 per day by calling on P. Bennett, Fifth street, near Walnut.

We are prepared to do all kinds of painting and fancy colors at the lowest prices.

Bees--There are too many bees in the city. Several white ladies have been seen with bees, and the sidewalks and streets are being soiled by them. They had better stay at home if they have bees, or the police will find one for them.

THE SYNOD OF KENTUCKY.

First Day's Proceedings.

The Synod of Kentucky met, according to adjournment, on the 11th inst., at 7:30 o'clock p. m., in the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, in this city. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. R. G. Brink, pastor of the Second Church, Lexington, from the text:

Another parable he gave unto them. The Kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, until the whole was leavened. (Matt. xiii. 33.)

Some interpreters have thought the reference of the parable to the leaven and corruption that would mingle with, and adulterate the doctrines of the Gospel. But this is manifestly erroneous. The circumstances under which the parable was spoken, and the context, forbid it.

Leaven has its good qualities as well as its bad. It may puff up, and disturb and swell, but it also makes light, tasteful, relishing and wholesome. By leaven, here, the preacher understood, was symbolized the diffusion of the gospel and the work of divine grace, whether in the heart of an individual or in the world.

He proceeded, however, at this time to confine his remarks chiefly to the empire of grace in the heart and observe:

1. That as the leaven in the meal is a foreign importation, so it is with grace in the soul. It is not naturally there. It is a new divine element, which is the good seed of the kingdom; the Holy Spirit dwelling in us. It is not a philosophy sprung out of the intellect of man, but a revelation from heaven, abiding truths of which man had no conception, and awakened desires of which his breast had no experience.

It is not the result of some inward nobleness, latent but happily developed. These are things of earth, this crowning it with mock honor as the Jews did Jesus before they crucified him. No new faculties are given but only a new direction to those which already exist. It cleanses its polluted streams and purifies its channels from the bond-age to error.

2. As the leaven diffuses itself to every part of the meal, so the grace of God will permeate and renew the whole soul. It touches and renews the whole man--every affection of his heart--every relation of his life. This view shows the true majesty of man. He is made for eternity. He is born of God--at the heart of God.

The preacher had only considered the emblem with reference to the empire of grace in the heart, but it was equally true of the empire of the world. No new faculties are given but only a new direction to those which already exist. It cleanses its polluted streams and purifies its channels from the bond-age to error.

James Brown, indicted too freely of tanglefoot, which made him too weak to stand; the Judge charged him $10 for taking up too much of the sidewalk.

Highwaymen on the Hardtown Pike--A Daring Attempt at Murder.

On last Sunday night Mr. T. J. Parker, keeper of the toll-gate on the Hardtown pike, was robbed of over $100, mention of which was made in the Democrat of Tuesday morning. On Tuesday night about twelve o'clock, or a little later, Mr. Parker, who was alone, his family having gone to a wedding, was aroused by a noise on the opposite side of the gate, as if some one was endeavoring to gain an entrance. He went to the door to see what was the matter, but he had no sooner opened the door than he was fired upon by a party of men concealed behind the fence, the ball passing through his coat near the region of the heart, showing that the shot was well aimed. Mr. Parker, who was on the alert, got his gun and returned the fire of the would-be assassins, who at once took to their heels, fearing that there were more persons in the house. Just as he was about to follow them, he was shot, or shot one of the party who made the attack was heard to exclaim "My God," and it is supposed that he was wounded. A son of Mr. Parker followed the men for some distance through the woods, but was unable to overtake them. The same party fired upon Mr. Ruten Davis, on the Taylorville pike. This is evidently the same party that robbed Mr. Parker on last Sunday night. It is reported that the party were armed with revolvers and pistols. For the last week they have been carrying on this species of robbery, so that it is dangerous for any person to go on the road after dark.

Amusements.

WOODSTOCK--A large and fashionable "Bazaar" continues to draw large and fashionable crowds at this popular place of amusement, the house being filled last night with the fashion of the city. The different parts of this exciting and interesting drama are well performed, and each one of the excellent stock company is received very warmly by the audience. Miss Charlotte Thompson, the part of "Ethel," is excellent. The part is well adapted to her style of acting, and in this part she more than sustains her reputation as one of the first actresses on the American stage. The place will be repeated tonight and we would advise all who have not seen the great prize drama to attend.

Louisville Theatre--The beautiful and charming actress Miss Cecile Rash was great with the other fine audience. Her function, in the play of that name, was only tolerable, she not giving it the life and vitality that we like to see in her. The play is excellent. The part is well adapted to her style of acting, and in this part she more than sustains her reputation as one of the first actresses on the American stage. The place will be repeated tonight and we would advise all who have not seen the great prize drama to attend.

NEWCOMB--The ministers attracted another large audience in the Masonic Temple last night. The Howard Association, led by Rev. Peil and Newcomb are a "ball team" in themselves.

Lieutenant Colonel Martin, formerly of Colonel Adam Johnson's command, was arrested at Greenville, Kentucky, a few days since, by Major Lawrence, of the 17th Kentucky Cavalry, charged with being implicated in the plot to burn the city of New York some time last winter; also as being in league with the steamboat burners of the upper Mississippi river. His threats against certain Federal soldiers were publicly made, regardless of the obligations of his parole to remain quietly at home.

A man from Morgan county, Ky., on a visit to Lexington, was knocked down and robbed on Saturday evening last. The rascals who did the work were practicing metropolitan tricks on the unsuspecting gentleman from the rural districts.

Mal. Dick McCann was recently examined before the civil courts in Knoxville, and the Judge refused to admit him to bail, consequently he is in the confinement still.

We direct attention to the card of Swan & Larrabee. These gentlemen may be found at No. 240 Third street, between Walnut and Chestnut.

A young man succeeded in walking across the bridge Cincinnati on Tuesday morning. He did it before daylight.

Mal. Gen. D. C. Baill is on a visit to Lexington, Ky.

The Herald's Fort Worth Monroe correspondent says:
Jeff. Davis, I am told, expresses himself greatly pleased in his change of quarters. Temporary steps have been taken, admitting him to the parapet from the balcony. He takes his walks daily, and continues in the enjoyment of excellent health. There is the same guard on him now as from his first entrance to the fortress. No rumors are going about his trial now to commence in a few days, and it takes place here. A counter-claim gives Washington the place of trial, and the time for it to commence directly at the close of the trial. Amid these conflicting statements and rumors, the only satisfactory result, after all, is to leave the final decision of the matter to time—that great arbiter of events and destinies.
Within the past twenty-four hours there has been an unusual amount of gossip, and the result of the coming election in Norfolk. The most interest is manifested in the Congressional candidates. It is thought that Mr. Spangler will be the successful candidate.
There is yet a great antipathy to Northern emigration and Northern troops. A growing system is developing itself of letting Northern business soberly alone. In this way they hope to drive them from the city.
An extensive fire is now sweeping over Dismal Swamp. It is probable that thousands of acres have already been burned over.

The order of Secretary Welles' proclamation in regard to the collection of money from working for political purposes in the navy yards is published. The Secretary orders the navy yards to be free from political maneuvering, and no persons will be allowed to resort to them for the purpose of electioneering or for the purpose of advancing the interests of candidates for office. The Secretary has also issued a circular, which we have already noticed, directing that hitherto all applications for positions of master-craftsmen must be made to the bureau of yards and docks in Washington.
New York, Oct. 11.
Provisional Governor Sharkey, of Mississippi, on the 25th, issued a proclamation in regard to the reception of the testimony of colored witnesses. The Governor orders that in all civil or criminal cases, which the rights of the negroes are involved their testimony may be received by the courts of the State, subject to the same rules as govern the taking of evidence of white persons.
This was issued after an agreement had been entered into with Colonel Thomas, Assistant Commissioner of Freedmen's Bureau in Mississippi, by which that officer consented to transfer all cases affecting negroes from the military to the local civil tribunals.
Washington, Oct. 10.
Some new complications seem to have arisen in Louisiana affairs. Provisional Governor Wells has made some doubtful appointments, in General Canby's opinion, and he, therefore, calls for the political antecedents of the appointees before allowing them to enter upon the duties of their offices. General Sheridan is understood to approve his proceeding. The President is reported to have sent Secretary Stanton on hearing of the imbroglio, and inquired with some warmth whether the interference of the military commanders was by order of the War Department. Mr. Stanton, by the same authority, disclaims any and all interference, and left the responsibility on either Governor Wells, and to tolerate no interference with his legitimate duties.
The garrison War Department is present composed of seven regiments of the veteran reserve corps, the 7th, 10th, 12th, 14th, 16th, 18th, 20th, 22nd, 24th and 26th Pennsylvania regiments, and the 19th Ohio volunteers, numbering in all the aggregate about 4,000 men. The 35th United States cavalry is on duty at General Grant's headquarters. The duty required of the troops is to keep it being no more than patrolling the long bridge and the various stockhouses where the surplus Government property is kept. As this property is fast being disposed of at auction and private sale the garrison has long been reduced to merely an ornamental body of troops.
